The first meeting for the season of the city teachers' association will be held in the Shively school building at 9:30 o'clock this morning.

Strauss Bros.' man was kept busy yesterday showing woollens and taking measures for men's suits at C. H. Cooper's store.

Water consumers will take notice that Monday, October 10, is the last day on which to pay water rates to avoid payment of the penalty charged all delinquents.

Have your clothes made to order, guaranteed to fit and be measured by Strauss Bros.' expert at Cooper's store, today and tomorrow.

There will be services at the Norwegian Evangelical Lutheran church tomorrow at 10:45 a. m. and at 7:30 p. m., in the Norwegian language. Meeting of the congregation at 3 p. m.

Strauss Bros. always show elegant goods for men's tailoring, but this time they outdo every previous effort as is evident by the line of woollens in the piece now being displayed at C. H. Cooper's store.

The agitation against leaving wagons standing on the streets is growing, and it is probable some arrests will shortly be made. The street superintendent has control of this matter, but his time is fully occupied with other matters. City Attorney Smith suggests that the police round up all wagons some night and take them to police headquarters.

When the owners call for them, the arrests may be made. The suggestion will doubtless be acted upon.

It's quite a treat to look at the new fall line of woollens now on special display at Cooper's. They'll be there until Saturday only, so don't postpone seeing them.

The British bark Oweene yesterday took a berth at Elmore dock, where she will discharge 1200 ons of coal for Elmore & Co.

The contract for repairing the building occupied by Ross, Higgins & Co., which was recently damaged by fire, was awarded yesterday to William Miller, whose bid was $1500.

A big slide in the cut near the summit of the hill has again delayed the construction of the branch logging road which the Deep River Logging Company is building to the Nasel river.

The fish warden has received a letter from the superintendent of the Umpqua hatchery stating that he has secured 2,500,000 spring chinook eggs. This is the largest number ever secured there.

"The Model Church of Today" and "The Upward and Downward Way," are the subjects chosen for sermons at the Baptist church tomorrow. All the other regular services will be observed as usual.

Have you seen the new browns and grays in fall woollens for men's made-to-order pants? You'll find them in profusion at Cooper's store in Strauss Bros.' extensive assortment of piece goods. Only two days, so don't delay in getting around. You're welcome, whether you order or not.

Your phone orders will have our prompt attention. Call up No. 681. Our stock of fresh and canned fruits and vegetables and all kinds of provisions is fresh and choice. Our prices are down to bedrock. Astoria Grocery, 523 Commercial street.

Architect Lazarus, who was down from Portland yesterday, sampled Astoria beer and pronounced it an excellent article. He ordered a case of beer sent to the Portland Hotel for his use. The popularity of the beverage is growing, and it is now used in many western cities.

For years Strauss Bros. have been making clothes for Astoria's best dressers. A special representative is in charge of a great display of new fall woollens at Cooper's store. It will pay you to call and have a talk with Strauss Bros.' man. He'll give you some pointers on the proper attire for this fall.

The opera chairs for the Star theater, which were ordered when the theater was built, have just arrived from Chicago, and will be placed at once. Manager Gevurtz wishes to apologize to the public for the delay in their installation and to assure his patrons that everything possible will be done for their comfort.

The case against Lawrence Sullivan will be called before Justice Goodman next week. Mr. Sullivan was arrested upon a charge of using a revolver in the streets of Seaside. His arrest grew out of the shooting affray in which Frank Moody shot Sullivan. The last-named was allowed to go on his own recognizance, having first promised to appear in court whenever the authorities wanted him. Moody was fined $50, and it is likely Sullivan will be taxed a similar amount.

During the past month the realty market has been unusually lively and many deeds and records have been filed for record. The rush has resulted in much hard work for Deputy County Clerk Trullinger, who finds it difficult to keep pace with buyers and sellers. The present activity is regarded as an excellent sign, particularly in view of the lateness of the season. Many of the transfers record the sale of city property.

Senator Fulton's tour with Senator Fairbanks has brought the Oregon senator into prominence, and he has been very kindly received by the people wherever he has spoken. The senator delivered his first big address at San Francisco, and his speech was a humorous gem. At all of the cities and towns at which he spoke he was received with marked enthusiasm, and the papers of the coast towns declared that he was one of the most peasing orators who ever toured the coast section. Senator Fulton joined the Fairbanks party after Senator Dolliver was taken ill at Portland.

At the last meeting of the city council a communication was presented by the carpenter's union to the effect that the Star theater building was in unsafe condition, and asking an investigation. The matter was referred to the committee on public property, which caused an examination by four contractors. The contractors made a thorough examination of the building, and yesterday prepared the following statement: "To the Public—We, the undersigned contractors and builders of Astoria, do hereby desire to inform the citizens of Astoria that we have, after careful examination of all foundations and other parts of the Star theater in this city, found the same to be absolutely safe in all respects." The statement is signed by Mayor Suprenat, Councilmen Lebeck and Hansen and Contractor J. E. Ferguson.

An interesting case was argued and submitted before Judge McBride at yesterday's session of the circuit court. Casciato and Ragnone, laborers, brought suit to foreclose a mechanic's lien against the Oregon Timber & Lumber Company for work done on a logging road. The question brought to the attention of the court was as to whether the suit should have been brought under the mechanic's lien law or under the railroad lien law. The matter was thoroughly argued by the attorneys and Judge McBride will render a decision later. The point involved is a nice one and the court's decision is awaited with interest, as many cases of the kind are apt to be started. The case of William Ross vs. M. J. Kinney, an action to recover $2000 alleged to be due on a promissory note, was also argued and submitted yesterday.
